HAYNES TRIUMPHANTLY VINDA-CATES HIS CHARACTER. we publish this morning an account of the discussion between the candidates for Congress at Somerville on Monday. From what we can hear of the debate it was, no doubt, the proudest day of Colonel Haynes's life. The vindication of his private character from the fool calcumits factorial of the purpose of destroying him was crushing, overwhelming. He came out of the flery ordeal with his character as bright and pureas refined gold. We have already aunounced that A. S. Colyar has retired from the busy hanuts of the political independent business. The testamentary thunderbolt which he hurled at the heads of an un-

But Colyar is so full of jokes he could not plunge into the wildstness of impenetrable obscurity, without poking his fan at the public. A celebrated ing ultimataly crowded out of existence. Yet because the rebels refuse to support Johnson, on account of the insult he offers by charging them with being "traiters," their dead comrades with filling "ignominious graves," and demanding an indorsement of his career as Military Governor of Tennessee, Colyar says the rebels are making was on Union men. The Candidates of the Davidson County Convention held on Saturday.

the convention which was need at the largest ever held in Davidson county, every ward of Nashville and Edgefield and every did listrict in the county except one, being fully represented. There certainly never was one more harmonious, none which ever by its action made a more complete acknowledgment of the necessity of organization. The gentlemen nominated are too well-known to the people of Davidson to require introduction or commendation from us. Mr. Overton, the candidate for Senator, is a native of this county. Being the wealthiest man in Tennessee, and his property consisting entirely of reality, he is personally more deeply interested in the vital questions of finance and taxation than any other man in the State. Mr. Overton was never before a candidate for office. The nomination yesterday, though fully deserved, was totally unsolfcited and unexpected.

Dr. Gleaves, the candidate for Joint Senator from the Twelfth District, is an old resident of Wilson, well known to the citizens of that county and Davidson. In 1855-50 he was a colleague of the hammented Hatton in the Legislatore. on. In 1855-56 he was a colleague of the she lamented Hatton in the Legislature, and without disparagement to others, worth it standing and intelligence, and well acquainted with the interests of their people. Mr. Diliard is a lawyer of quiet department, of experience as a member of our City Council, and emphatically a steady worker. Mr. Cotton is an old merchant of the city. He, too, has considerable legislative experience as a member of the City Council.

The unanimity with which these gentlement have been nominated angurs triumphant success. If elected, we are sure that they have energy and disposition to make their work acceptable to their constituents.

At Salinas, Monterey county, near San Francisco, inflammable gas was struck at a depth of seventy feet. The flames reached twenty feet above the flames reached twenty feet above the surface.

The diamond sell has been revived in San Francisso again by the exhibition of diamonds and rubies valued at many thousand dollars. The parties still refuse to reveal the locality until a government patent can be obtained.

The Masters and Past-Masters of the Patrons of Husbandry will meet in convention at Columbia on the ninth instant, to organize a State Grange for South Carolina. They will organize with seventy-sight Subordinate Granges, making the largest State Grange now in existence, except that of Ohio.

A make and Conservatives, for the reason that the blacks have a decided majority in this county and the Congressional district, and the scalarways and carpet-bagers control this vote. Beskles, as you know under these circumstances, some sound men in principle will got a few soft and dark specks on their soundness by being drawn by the attraction of interest to touch corruption kindly. A carpetbagger by the name of Howe is the Radical candidate for Congress. If he has any character I know nothing of it. All that I can learn about him is that he came from New England since the war. The Conservatives have had no convention and made no nomina-

But we are gratified to learn that Colonel Kellar washed his hands of all complicity with the dirty slander which found its way into the columns of his personal manner, and inflicting more damage sometimes on himself and his cheese, but by damage sometimes on himself and his friends than he does upon his enemies.

NIGGER CHARACTERISTICS has been one of my special studies, They are a much better race than they are generally believed to be. They are wary in giving their confidence; still their confidence and love can be obtained by true kindness and pleasant manners. Of course I speak generally, and, if you please, of the more sensible and of the better grades—of a great number who are leaders. result of interviews with Cheathan, Maynard and Johnson, the gist of which has already appeared in the APPEAL in reports of the speeches of the gentilemen. We make room for his photographs of the triumvirate, from which it will be seen that he sketches Cheatham as the man, Johnson as the demagogue he is, and Maynard as a crafty, hair-splitting, tricky Radical:

CHEATHAM.

Old Cheatham fought in the Mexican war with that galaxy of splendid soldiers that culminated in Rebert E. Lee. He was all through the late war, distinguishing himself particularly at Chickamauga, and if you can call to mind the most genial, simple-hearted, homestlossing, kindly-tempered officer that ever held command in our Army of the Potomac, you are not far from having his rebel counterpart in Frank Cheatham. The very recesse of the soldier in political influence with the negroes.
